

MONSTERS

	THE MONSTER OF VICTOR FRANKENSTEIN	QUASIMODO	THE ELEPHANT MAN
REAL PERSON OR CHARACTER ?	Character	Character	Real Person
WHO CREATED HIM?	Mary Shelley	Victor Hugo	Joseph Merrick
WHEN ?	1818	1831	1980
BOOK HE BELONGS TO	Novel Frankenstein	The Hunchback of Notre Dame	----
HIS PROBLEM	This "monster" is the supposed murdered of several characters throughout the book and is presumably the main antagonist. However, the actions of Victor Frankenstein suggest that the monster is in fact Victor himself. Victor is the only person who sees the monster.	Quasimodo is a character who was abandoned after birth by a gypsy family in Paris, near the Cathedral of Our Lady. He is a deformed boy that in this story he falls in love with a beautiful girl named Esmeralda. In the end, she was executed and Quasimodo seems that he won't arrive in time to save her.	He's a man that have a serious deformed. The people of high society use he as an object. He was in London and he success because he's so intelligent. But one day, Bytes kidnaps Merrick and takes him to Europe, where he once again exhibits him and subjects him to cruelty and neglect. At end, Merrick escapes with the help of showmen and manages to return to London.

COULD HE BE HAPPY?	NO	IN THE BEGINNING NO, BUT AT END YES	NO
HOW DID HIS LIFE END?	At the end of Frankenstein Victor Frankenstein dies wishing that he could destroy the Monster he created. The Monster visits Frankenstein's body. While Frankenstein dies feeling disturbed that the Monster is still alive, the Monster is reconciled to death: so much so that he intends to commit suicide.	Quasimodo, after the death of the Esmeralda, he kill Frollo pushing him into the abyss of the cathedral and then he goes to the cemetery where Esmeralda was and he left himself die of hungry next to her.	When he arrives to London again he is bullied by a group of children at Liverpool Street station and accidentally knocks down a girl. A lot of people run after him and discover his head. He fell down and the police come, at end he locked again in his old room.